

Lower Makefield Chiropractor

Contributed by Dr. Buckley
Monday, 04 February 2008
Last Updated Friday, 18 April 2008

Where Doctors go to get Chiropractic Treatment when they are Injured!

Lower Makefield Chiropractor

Find a Lower Makefield chiropractor today

Are you looking for a good chiropractor in the Lower Makefield area, well you search is over. Dr. Robert Buckley has a chiropractic clinic right down the street on the beautiful Delaware River. What could be better, State of the art chiropractic services, 20 years of experience, all with an incredible view.

Are you new to Lower Makefeild? Chiropractors?

That's alright. We have been here for 20 years, we can help with getting you acquainted to the rest of our neighbors. Finding a Lower Makefield chiropractor is only one of the many new relationships you must develop in your new location. If you are not new to the area we want to help you also. Buckley Chiropractic is in business to help all the local residents with their healthcare needs. If you are not sure if a lower Makefield chiropractor is what you need let us give you some information.

What is a Lower Makefield chiropractor?

Well here is what wikipedia says;

Chiropractic (from Greek chiro and praktikos meaning "done by hand") is a complementary and alternative medicine health profession whose purpose is to diagnose and treat mechanical disorders of the spine and musculoskeletal system with the intention of affecting the nervous system and improving health. Chiropractic uses manual treatments including spinal adjustment and other joint and soft-tissue manipulation. Historically, it is based on the premise that a spinal joint dysfunction can interfere with the nervous system and result in many different conditions of diminished health, a concept known as vertebral subluxation. Today, chiropractors differ on how much emphasis should be placed on subluxation, with some entirely rejecting the concept and instead focusing on the relationship between structure and function and the impact of structure on neurological mechanisms.

Now that you have some background information on chiropractic, let's talk specifically about Buckley chiropractic. Dr. Buckley is the Lower Makefield chiropractor who specializes in the treatment of musculoskeletal and sports injuries. Dr. Buckley is the only Lower Makefield chiropractor to have been granted hospital privileges and was named the director of chiropractic education for Franklin Square/ Cooper Center City Hospital. During his tenure at that facility he gained invaluable insight into the co-management of patients with allied healthcare practitioners. By being able to work hand and hand with the other specialist he was able to provide the optimal healthcare experience for his patients. To this day he draws on the relationship he has forged with allied healthcare professionals to give his patients the very best chiropractic care possible. Dr. Buckley is clearly the Lower Makefield chiropractor to see when you need chiropractic care.

Still not sure if you could benefit from finding a good Lower Makefield chiropractor? Here are some of the conditions we have helped your neighbors with:

- Allergies
- Sinus Headaches
- Sports Injuries
- Pulled Muscles
- Arthritis
- Asthma
- Back Pain

- Postural Problems
- Ankle sprains
- Scoliosis
- Spinal Disorders
- Anxiety
- Stress Control
- TMJ

- Fibromyalgia
- Headaches
- Hip Pain
- Knee pain
- Migraines
- Neck Pain
- Shoulder Pain